MgA. Ricardo Hoineff

Ricardo Hoineff born in Rio de Janeiro to a Jewish family, he packed his bags in the early 1990s and flew blindly to Prague, where he studied stage design at the prestigious DAMU faculty and became a successful creator of television opening titles and set designer. Later, at the age of forty, he saw a glassblower in action in Nový Bor, Bohemia. It was love at first sight. Glass. And so, although he was already mature, he decided to start attending school again. Today, he creates glass art with a distinctive method and expression.

Bc. Ilona Rejholcová

Ilona Rejholcová is the Managing Director of Kultura Nový Bor, s.r.o., an organization that provides the city with a cinema, a theater, the Navrátil Hall, a summer cinema, film festivals (such as Expedition Camera and Snow Film Fest), periodic exhibitions at the cinema and theater, and cultural events in the city (including the Czech-Brazilian Days, Mariano Festival, Glass Festival, and more). She holds a degree in Literary Language and Culture from the University of Hradec Králové, studied Journalism at Masaryk University in Brno, completed a one-year course in Magazine Journalism at Koktejl Magazine, and studied Graphic Design at the Graphic Photography School in Liberec.

María Eugenia Diaz de Vivar

María Eugenia Díaz de Vivar is an art historian, curator, researcher, writer, and editor, born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and currently residing in Barcelona, Spain. Since 2007, she has directed the publication Objetos con Vidrio, an online platform that disseminates the work of contemporary artists and reflects the activity of artistic glass. She was a member of the Executive Committee for South America, responsible for the local organization of artistic events related to the International Year of Glass 2022 (IYOG 2022). Additionally, she is the manager of the ACAV (Catalan Association of Glass Arts).

Introduction

Welcome to the catalog of the exhibition "Fragments of Light: Ibero-American Glass in Novy Bor". We are proud to present various approaches and techniques in glass art from Ibero-America, within the symbolic context of Novy Bor, a place of great prestige in the history of glass.

This exhibition highlights the work of 15 artists from the following countries:

Argentina: Cecilia Núñez, Guadalupe Mestre, Mariángelos Romero.

Chile: Ingrid Bahna.

Costa Rica: Carlos Rodó, Silvia Monge.

Spain: Alfonsa Martín Ruiz, María Dolors Rosell, Miguel Ángel Polo Vereda, Tiziana Chiara.

Guatemala: Karin Weller.

Panama: Armando Granja, Gladys Sevillano, Poonam Chatlani.

Uruguay: Flavia Contino.

Instead of displaying physical pieces, the exhibition features photographs of the works, capturing the essence and diversity of the artistic approaches presented.

The realization of this exhibition has been made possible through the GLASS Tour study trip, organized by the Objetos con Vidrio platform. We extend special thanks to Kultura Novy Bor for providing the space for this exhibition and to Ricardo Hoineff for his role as liaison and facilitator, enabling these works to be showcased as part of the IGS Triennial in Novy Bor.

Each photograph reflects a rich diversity of talents and approaches, ranging from refined techniques to innovative perspectives. This catalog offers a glimpse into the richness of Ibero-American glass art and celebrates the creativity and spirit of the participating artists.

We would like to thank all the artists for their valuable contributions and Objetos con Vidrio, Kultura Novy Bor, and Ricardo Hoineff for their support in organizing this project. We hope this catalog not only illustrates the artistic panorama of the region but also serves as a tribute to the enriching cultural exchange that has brought this exhibition to life.

Enjoy exploring these "Fragments of Light" and discovering the fascinating artistic expression each photograph has to offer.

Sincerely,

María Eugenia Díaz de Vivar

When my friend Ricardo Hoineff proposed the idea of organizing an exhibition with 15 glass artists from different Ibero-American countries in our cinema, I felt like a dream had come true. Two worlds that I am passionate about have merged: glass art and the vibrant culture of that region.

For almost twenty years, we have been presenting South American art and culture in Nový Bor every year during the Czech-Brazilian Days. Now, we have the opportunity to explore glass art that connects us across continents. Through glass, which contains all the elements of life—fire, water, air and earth—we can appreciate the passion and originality of glass artists.

We have carefully selected more than 150 works by artists from Argentina to Panama. I am very pleased that in a city like Nový Bor, known for its glass tradition, we can present the work of these talented artists brought together by Maria Eugenia Díaz de Vivar.

We have lovingly put together “Fragments of Light: Ibero-American Glass in Nový Bor” for you, in the hope that it will bring you joy and admiration.

Argentina

ES

Cecilia Núñez, nacida en Rosario, Argentina, es artista visual, licenciada en Artes Visuales con especialidad en grabado por la UNR. Se formó en casting y vidrio en Buenos Aires y Berazategui. Su obra se centra en el vidrio, investigando técnicas milenarias y contemporáneas. Ha expuesto en muestras nacionales e internacionales, destacando "Ver a Través" en la Galería Stein (2006), "Hands Across The World" en el Reino Unido (2021), y "La Temporalidad de lo Frágil" en el Museo Estevez (2023). Dos de sus obras son parte del patrimonio del MAVA en Madrid.

Cecilia Núñez, born in Rosario, Argentina, is a visual artist with a degree in Visual Arts specializing in printmaking from the National University of Rosario (UNR). She trained in casting and glass in Buenos Aires and Berazategui. Her work focuses on glass, exploring both ancient and contemporary techniques. She has exhibited in national and international shows, including "Ver a Través" at Galería Stein (2006), "Hands Across The World" in the UK (2021), and "La Temporalidad de lo Frágil" at the Estevez Museum (2023). Two of her works are part of the MAVA heritage in Madrid.

Cecilia Núñez, narozená v Rosariu, Argentina, je vizuální umělkyně specializující se na grafiku s titulem z výtvarných umění z UNR. V Buenos Aires a Berazategui se vzdělávala v oblasti odlévání a skla. Její práce se zaměřuje na sklo a zkoumá starověké i současné techniky. Vystavovala na národních i mezinárodních výstavách, včetně "Ver a Través" v Galerii Stein (2006), "Hands Across The World" ve Velké Británii (2021) a "La Temporalidad de lo Frágil" v Muzeu Estevez (2023). Dvě její díla jsou součástí sbírek MAVA v Madridu.

Title of the Work: w/t

Date of Creation: 2021

Technique Used: Installation, kiln casting, glass paste, slumping.

Dimensions: 95cm x 55cm x 1.95cm

Materials: Glass, plastics, fishing line, perfume bottles, wires, silicone.

Description of the Work: The creative process involves multiple stages, beginning with the collection of discarded materials, such as fishing lines, plastics, empty perfume bottles, sneaker scraps, among others. Then the original sneaker is deconstructed, molds are created, and the kiln curves are designed according to the glass and the desired outcome. Finally, the parts are assembled.

Inspiration/Concept: The aim of this series is to give a second chance to discarded items, such as sneakers, perfume bottles, and glass that were thrown away. These luxury items enter our culture as irresistible and seductive objects of desire, but with a hidden expiration date. This project intersects with a variety of concepts, such as fashion, consumerism, recycling, reuse, environmentalism, and the tension between the ephemeral and the permanent. The artwork itself becomes a 'critical object' offering multiple interpretations and perspectives, subject to consumption, perpetuated in a vicious cycle.

Ingrid pokračuje v experimentování s litím a prací s hořákem, integruje techniky jako Pate de Verre, skleněná fúze a vitráže. Její práce se vyznačují pohybem, silou a organickými koncepty.

Title of the Work: Rescue

Date of Creation: May 2024

Technique Used: Pâte de Verre

Dimensions: 56 x 32 cm

Materials: Float glass and Bullseye glass

Description of the Work: This piece was created using a mold developed from different crusts and natural textures of a 150-year-old tree that was felled by a storm. Two types of glass grammage were used with this mold. The pieces were then fired in the kiln following a special curve.

Inspiration/Concept: The work is inspired by the strength and devastation of nature. Often, we protect our natural environment, but it is still damaged by natural disasters or human actions. The artwork represents colors and organic textures: the white color symbolizes melting glaciers and salt flats; the general texture represents the crusts of destroyed native forests; the blue details symbolize the shine of rivers and the sea; and the red signifies the bleeding of nature. Glass is a versatile, attractive, and transparent material that brings light to the artwork. It is also 100% recyclable without significant changes in the process, making it a unique and sustainable material in the context of current environmental concerns.

The Metaphor: The glass and its attributes protecting our natural legacy.

Pod vedením různých umělců se naučila techniky jako fúzování, odlévání a přenos obrazu, což jí umožnilo rozvíjet a zdokonalovat její díla. Její původ se odráží v její tvorbě: moře, mořské organismy a environmentální problémy. Skrze sklo tak zvýrazňuje krásu přírody spolu s její křehkostí.

Title of the Work: Underwater meadow

Date of Creation: 2021

Technique Used: Fusing and thermoforming

Dimensions of each vase separately: 26 x 27 x 17 cm, 24 x 25 x 18 cm, 24 x 25 x 17 cm

Materials: Bullseye glass

Description of the Work: Composition formed by three independent pieces built with glass of different shades of green. Each vase was constructed separately, following a different arrangement of the branches.

Inspiration/Concept: The different colour of each piece in this set suggests the effect of underwater sunlight playing with a seaweed meadow. The different details of the surface of the leaves or branches remind us of the presence of the organisms that usually live and grow on them. Instead, the wavy appearance of the branches is reminiscent of the constant movement that seawater produces in seagrass meadows.

Technique used: Float glass melted in two firings: first at 810°C and second at 780°C.

Materials: Float glass, bubble enamel, enamel under the cover and on the cover, mica, copper powder

Description of the work: To represent the leaves of the trees, float glass is cut into circles of different sizes and each circle is decorated differently with enamel, mica and copper. The trunk and branches are represented with elongated pieces of float glass of different sizes decorated with enamels.

Inspiration/Concept: Through this work Alfons_Arte invites the viewer to reflect on the capacity of nature to regenerate itself and offer new opportunities. The technique used brings brightness and transparency to the piece by reflecting the light in a way.

Karin Weller was struck by the stained glass windows of the Don Bosco Church in Guatemala, which inspired her to specialize in this technique. In 1992, she founded "Nuevos Vitrales", a company where she developed her style, combining influences from Guatemalan textiles, golden geometry and the Victorian style. Among her most notable projects are stained glass windows for the Hotel Las Américas and the dome of the Tropico Inn hotel in El Salvador. She participated in the restoration of the National Palace of Guatemala, where she expanded her knowledge of antique glass and grisaille. In addition, she has perfected techniques with international masters and exhibited her work in various exhibitions.

Na Karin Weller udělaly dojem vitráže kostela Don Bosco v Guatemale, které ji inspirovaly ke specializaci na tuto techniku. V roce 1992 založila „Nuevos Vitrales“, společnost, kde rozvíjí svůj styl, kombinující vlivy z guatemalského textilu, zlaté geometrie a viktoriánského stylu. Mezi její nejpozoruhodnější projekty patří vitráže pro Hotel Las Américas a kupole hotelu Tropico Inn v Salvadoru. Podílela se na restaurování Národního paláce Guatemale, kde si rozšířila znalosti o starožitném skle a grisaille. Kromě toho zdokonalila techniky u mezinárodních mistrů a vystavovala svá díla na různých výstavách.

Date of Creation: 07/2023

Technique Used: Slumped glass

Dimensions: 1.75 x .85m

Materials: Mirrored glass, aluminum, neutral silicone

Description of the Work: Slumped Glass over different heights in the oven. I tried to reproduce my sketches of a close up views of water. Finished with antique mirror in the back.

Inspiration/Concept: MAS ALLA comes from Jinayá a farm in Alta Verapaz, Guatemala.

It is a gift of nature crossed by 13 rivers. I was inspired by contemplating this shining water flow and the relaxing murmurs.

Title of the Work: "Power Struggle"

Date of Creation: 2022

Technique Used: Kiln Cast Glass

Dimensions: 50cm x 32cm x 36.5cm

Materials: Glass with Ropes

Description of the Work: The work symbolizes the looming threat of a global conflict and nuclear disaster. It uses clenched fists, representing NATO and Russia, with a rope about to snap, to highlight the fragile state of world peace. The fists were created in wax, cast in transparent glass through the lost wax process.

Inspiration/Concept: "Power Struggle" highlights the global impact of wars instigated by tyrants and their negative effects on humanity's future. The proposal addresses the widespread socioeconomic consequences of such conflicts, emphasizing that even distant wars affect everyone. The imagery of fists pulling on a rope symbolizes the struggle for peace, which is being undermined by the immense force of power and defiance.

Title of the Work: Transmutation & Healing

Date of Creation: 2023

Technique Used: Kilnformed glass, Pâte de Verre, Textile

Dimensions: 45x25x30 cm

Materials: Glass, Powder Glass, Wool, Metal

Description of the Work: Created as part of Diphylleia Glass Studio under the guidance of Contino & Abadi Architects, "Transmutation & Healing" was crafted for the "CAMITAS 2" charity project. Organized by three prominent Argentinian art associations—CAAT (Textiles), CAAC (Ceramic & Glass), and AAVRA (Visual Arts)—the project saw hundreds of artists contributing their works to a charity auction supporting the Uguet Mondaca Shelter. This shelter provides care and protection to vulnerable women and children, many of whom are survivors of domestic violence.

Inspiration/Concept: "Transmutation & Healing" symbolizes the journey of women and children recovering from domestic violence. The shattered glass represents their brokenness, while the process of fusing the glass pieces reflects their healing. The colors—purple for transmutation and green for healing—highlight this transformation. An embryo symbolizes hope for a new, empowered life.
